Dear Adrian

I am writing to let you know that I have released for public comment, draft management plans for 44 Australian Marine Parks that are managed by Parks Australia. I am also seeking feedback on a proposed name change from Commonwealth Marine Reserves to Marine Parks.

Public notices have been placed in a range of newspapers, inviting comments on draft plans and the proposed renaming. You can review the draft management plans and information about the proposed renaming on the marine parks website at www.parksaustralia.gov.au/marine.

In preparing these draft plans, we have worked hard to balance the need to protect the marine environment, with supporting people's livelihoods and the Australian lifestyle.

I realise you have a keen interest in recreational fishing and I hope that the plans clearly set out where you, your friends and family will be able to fish in Australian Marine Parks. Recreational fishing will be allowed in 97 per cent of Commonwealth waters within 100 km of the coast. Fishing will also be allowed in 82 per cent of key Coral Sea reefs.

In some areas, we have not allowed fishing, because scientists tell us it is important to have some "no-take" areas, including to protect fish spawning and feeding grounds.

The draft plans have benefitted from input from fishers like you, feedback from the public, the independent review of Commonwealth marine reserves released in 2016, the advice and expertise of traditional owners on managing sea country, the best available science, and the Government's policies and approaches to supporting competitive and sustainable fisheries.

We are seeking your feedback on whether we have the balance right in these draft plans.

Please send your feedback on these draft plans or the proposed renaming by 20 September 2017, by:
